DETAILED ACTION

The instant action is final.

The application is a continuation of PCT/EP02/05778 filed 6-7-01.

Claims 1-19 are pending and addressed below. Claim 1 is lone independent.

The Examiner reserves the right to impose an election of species for this alternate embodiment in a future action. Note: see the differences in the embodiment in figure 1b (corresponding to independent claim 1) and the wholly different embodiment in figure 13 (corresponding to dependent claim 9).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 4-8, 10-17, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Arndt et al. (6,134,476).

Arndt discloses a coaxial probe arrangement (700) in figure 7 with inner (710) and outer (706) conductors ("metal tubes") with annular insulation/tube (708) between and first (702,"tip") and second external (716, "shaft") electrodes, as well as a hand portion (704 – “insulation jacket”, handle, also see figure 5) with first and second blind bores (region D3 where 710 rests and the distal most area where 702 rests, respectively – also the first bore is inherently able to pass a “spring wire”). Region D1 and D2 includes transverse bores (in which 720 and 722 rest).

Design placement of inner conductor (710), which is metallic, inherently provides an increased flexural (bending) stiffness of the probe (700).

Arndt discloses saline (col. 23:19-23, inter alia), which can be of varying concentrations including those concentrations of lesser conductivity, anticipating claim 19.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arndt in view of Berube et al. (6,245,062).

There is no express mention of screws in Arndt.

Berube discloses an analogous microwave antenna in which the shaft (31) is screwed to the handle (38). See col. 11:40-45.

Therefore at the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Arndt in view of Berube by including as design expedients screws in a microwave antenna. The motivation would be to choose a design expedient that prevents the separate antenna parts from disassembling.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12-19-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Arndt indeed discloses metallic external electrodes (716) connected to outer conductor (706) as depicted in figure 7.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
